Top Tips for Club Members and Parents
Fostering inclusion in your sports club

Being involved and included in a local sporting club is an important and rewarding experience which can help children to develop skills that will set them up for life. This experience is something that all children should have the opportunity to access and this can start with you.

Club members and parents can build an inclusive environment by:

Set a positive example – make a stand against discrimination and include every one
Get to know the other families and members in your club and be part of creating a welcoming environment
Befriend new members—offer support and guidance

Expand your idea of ‘winning’— participating, teamwork and good sportsmanship are part of what makes a winning team. It’s not just about coming first!
Be open to learning from members who are new to the club

Ask the coach how you can help!
